CASIO

Getting Acquainted

Congratulations upon your selection of this CASIO watch. To get the most out of your purchase, be sure to read this manual carefully and keep it on hand for later reference when necessary.

Applications

This built-in compass of this watch measures direction, barometric pressure, temperature and altitude. Measured values are then shown on the display. Such features make this watch useful when hiking, mountain climbing, or when engaging in other such outdoor activities.

Keep the watch exposed to bright light

The electricity generated by the solar cell of the watch is stored by a built-in battery. Leaving or using the watch where it is not exposed to light causes the battery to run down. Make sure the watch is exposed to light as much as possible.

- When you are not wearing the watch, set your wrist position so the face of it is pointed at a source of bright light.
- You should try to keep the watch outside of your sleeve as much as possible. Even if the face of the watch is only partially blocked, then light charging will be reduced significantly.

- The watch continues to operate, even when it is not exposed to light. Leaving the watch in the dark can cause the battery to run down, which will cause some watch functions to be disabled. If the battery runs down, you will have to re-configure watch settings after recharging. To ensure normal watch operation, be sure to keep it exposed to light as much as possible.

Battery charges in the light.

Battery discharges in the dark.

- The actual level at which some functions are disabled depends on the watch model.

General Guide

- The illustration below shows which buttons you need to press to navigate between modes.
- In any mode, press (D) to illuminate the display.

Time-keeping

- Use the Timesleeping Mode to set and view the current time and date.
- In the Timesleeping Mode, press (D) to toggle between the month-day and the day-of-the-week at the top of the display.

Read This Before You Set the Time and Date!

This watch is preset with a number of city codes, each of which represents the time zone where that city is located. When setting the time, it is important that you select the correct city code for your Home-City (the city where you normally use the watch). If your location is not included in the present city codes, select the present city code that is in the same time zone as your location.

- Frequent display illumination can run down the battery quickly and require charging. The following guidelines give an idea of the charging time required to recover from a single illumination operation.
 - Approximately 2 minutes exposure to bright sunlight coming in through a window.
 - Approximately 50 minutes exposure to indoor fluorescent lighting.
- Be sure to read "Power Supply" for important information you need to know when exposing the watch to bright light.

If the display of the watch is blank...

If the display of the watch is blank, it means that the watch's Power Saving function has turned off the display to conserve power.

- See "Power Saving" for more information.

Warnings

- The measurement functions built into the watch are not intended for taking measurements that require a professional or industrial precision. Values produced by this watch should be considered as reasonable approximations only.
- When engaging in mountain climbing or other activities in which facing your way down or onto a dangerous or life-threatening situation, always be sure to use a second compass to confirm direction readings.
- CASIO COMPUTER CO., LTD. assumes no responsibility for any loss, or any claims by third parties that may arise through the use of this watch.

About This Manual

- Button operations are indicated using the letters shown on the illustration.
- Each section of this manual provides you with the information you need to perform operations in each mode. Further details and technical information can be found in the "Reference" section.

- You can use buttons (A), (B), and (C) to directly enter a sensor mode from the Timesleeping Mode or from another sensor mode. To enter a sensor mode from the Data Recall, World Time, Stopwatch, Countdown Timer, or Alarm Mode, first enter the Timesleeping Mode and then press the applicable button.

- Note that all of the times for the World Time Mode city codes are displayed in accordance with the time and date settings you configure on the Timesleeping Mode.
- After you directly set your Home City time and date, you can set the watch up for timesleeping with a different city code simply by changing the Home City code in the Timesleeping Mode.

To set the time and date

- In the Timesleeping Mode, hold down (D) until the city code starts to flash, which indicates the setting screen.
- Use (D) and (E) to select the city code you want.
 - Make sure you select your Home City code before changing any other setting.
 - For full information on city codes, see the "City Code Table".
