Evangelization Evangelization:

From Maintenance to Mission Robert S. Rivers, 2005 Evangelization contrary to what many people believe is not just a Protestant concern in fact writes Robert Rivers it is Catholic to the core In this practical approachable work he suggests that the Catholic parish is a wonderful setting to carry out the evangelizing work of the church He makes the case that evangelization holds the key to the future of the church because it was in fact the centerpiece of post Vatican Council reform Drawing from the USCCB document Go and Make Disciples which offers a comprehensive plan and strategy for evangelization he explores ways to challenge us to become Catholic evangelizers And he proposes ways to move from maintenance to mission oriented parishes My purpose affirms the author is to try to place before the reader a compelling vision of Catholic evangelization and share some strategic thinking that might enable us to implement the great vision to which we have been called He attains that goal convincingly practically and hopefully

New Evangelization Leonardo Boff, 2006-02-03 At the 500th anniversary of the conquest of the Americas Leonardo Boff offers a telling assessment of the impact and future prospects of Christianity The anniversary has prompted intense soul searching especially in Latin America While church conservatives have called triumphalistically for a new evangelization of the continent others remembering the ongoing toll among native peoples blacks and the poor have called on the church to free itself from vestiges of its colonial past In New Evangelization Boff cuts to the heart of tensions in the church today In his first extensive treatment of Christian mission from a liberation theology perspective he deals with such topics as inculturation and the trinitarian basis of mission He offers an extensive reflection on the figure of the Virgin of Guadalupe as model of a new liberating evangelization The gospel arrived in the Americas under the sign of domination Boff argues that a new evangelization rooted in the culture of the oppressed must occur under the sign of liberation Book jacket

The Evangelization of the World: Jacques A. Blocher, Jacques Blandenier, 2012-12-06 A History of Christian Missions Written in an engaging style and intended largely for a lay audience The Evangelization of the World tells the remarkable story of how Christianity grew from an insignificant Jewish sect in the first century until by the beginning of the twenty first century it had become the world's first truly global religion The book is Careful to explain historical context and mission theory but the foci of the narrative are the great personalities of mission: the Apostle Paul, St Martin of Tours, St Patrick, St Francis, Xavier, John Eliot, Count Von Zinzendorf, William Carey, Robert Morrison, David Livingstone, Mary Slessor, Albert Schweitzer, and many others who make this account of the expansion of the church a fascinating and often dramatic tale. In addition, the book does not neglect the great mission conferences of the twentieth century nor does it avoid the controversial aspects of mission that in many instances continue to vex the movement today.

Liberating News Orlando E. Costas, 2002-04-22 This book approaches the topic of contextual evangelization from the standpoint of the poor, the powerless, and the oppressed. It is, as Orlando Costas explains, written against the backdrop of the radical evangelical tradition in dialogue with other streams of the larger ecumenical church. Costas begins by exploring the biblical roots of contextual evangelization, focusing on two models. The Old Testament model is illustrated by believers like Esther who, in her heroic liberation of her people in politically difficult circumstances, showed us how to come to the aid of those who live on the margins of society. The New Testament model is illustrated first and foremost by Christ who showed us how to minister to the marginalized by operating from the Galilean periphery. On what does one base contextual evangelization? On the Trinity, which Costas defines as community, the foundation for evangelization as a communal event. The substance of evangelization is the apostolic message of the cross, which announces God's gift of life through the suffering and death of Christ. If we believe that message, we look forward to life in God's kingdom, even as we work and pray for justice and peace. Costas accordingly views conversion not as a single event but rather as a continual transformative process that involves a passage from self-absorption to active communal commitment. Costas's creative sound blend of evangelical commitment and enlightened social thinking recommends this book to well-informed laypeople as well as pastors, theologians, and scholars.
