Muhammad Yunus,2017-09-26 A winner of the Nobel Peace Prize and bestselling author of Banker to the Poor offers his vision of an emerging new economic system that can save humankind and the planet Muhammad Yunus who created microcredit invented social business and earned a Nobel Peace Prize for his work in alleviating poverty is one of today s most trenchant social critics Now he declares it s time to admit that the capitalist engine is broken that in its current form it inevitably leads to rampant inequality massive unemployment and environmental destruction We need a new economic system that unleashes altruism as a creative force just as powerful as self interest Is this a pipe dream Not at all In the last decade thousands of people and organizations have already embraced Yunus s vision of a new form of capitalism launching innovative social businesses designed to serve human needs rather than accumulate wealth They are bringing solar energy to millions of homes in Bangladesh turning thousands of unemployed young people into entrepreneurs through equity investments financing female owned businesses in cities across the United States bringing mobility shelter and other services to the rural poor in France and creating a global support network to help young entrepreneurs launch their start ups In A World of Three Zeros Yunus describes the new civilization emerging from the economic experiments his work has helped to inspire He explains how global companies like McCain Renault Essilor and Danone got involved with this new economic model through their own social action groups describes the ingenious new financial tools now funding social businesses and sketches the legal and regulatory changes needed to jumpstart the next wave of socially driven innovations And he invites young people business and political leaders and ordinary citizens to join the movement and help create the better world we all dream of Fighting Poverty Together A. Karnani,2011-05-10 In this hard hitting polemical Karnani demonstrates what is wrong with today s approaches to reducing poverty He proposes an eclectic approach to poverty reduction that emphasizes the need for business government and civil society to partner together to create employment opportunities for the poor

Capitalist Approach to the Amelioration of Poverty Michael Conway O'Dowd, 1984      World of Three Zeroes

Muhammad Yunus, Karl Weber, 2017-10-30 The bestselling author of Banker to the Poor and Creating a World Without Poverty and co-winner of the Nobel Peace Prize outlines his radical economic vision for tackling inequality, joblessness and environmental degradation and describes the worldwide movement already working to make it a reality. Muhammad Yunus is the Bangladeshi economist who invented microcredit, founded Grameen Bank and earned a Nobel Peace Prize for his work towards alleviating poverty. Here he argues that the capitalist system is broken. In its current form it inevitably leads to rampant inequality, massive unemployment and devastating environmental destruction. To save humankind and the planet we need a new economic system based on a more realistic vision of human nature, one that recognises altruism and generosity as driving forces that are just as fundamental and powerful as self-interest. Is this a pipe dream? Not at all. In the decade since Yunus first began to articulate his ideas for a new type of capitalism, thousands of companies, nonprofits and individual entrepreneurs around the world have embraced them. From Albania to Colombia, India to Germany, newly created businesses and enterprises are committed to reducing poverty, improving health care and education, cleaning up pollution and serving other urgent human needs in ingenious, innovative ways. A World of Three Zeroes describes the new civilisation that is emerging from the economic experiments Yunus' work has helped to inspire and offers a challenge to young people, business and political leaders and ordinary citizens to embrace his mission and improve the world for everyone.      A World of Three Zeroes Muhammad Yunus, 2017-10-12 The capitalist system in its current form is broken. Here a Nobel Peace Prize winner outlines his radical economic vision for fixing it. Eight individuals now own more wealth than 50 per cent of the global population and high unemployment in many countries means that people's skills, knowledge and creativity are being wasted. Rampant environmental destruction only adds to this picture of a bleak future in which humankind will no longer be able to sustain itself. But what if there is another way? Muhammad Yunus is the economist who invented microcredit, founded Grameen Bank and earned a Nobel Peace Prize for his work towards alleviating poverty. Here he sets forth his vision to establish a new kind of capitalism where altruism and generosity are valued as much as profit-making and where individuals not only have the capacity to lift themselves out of poverty but also to affect real change for the planet and its people. A World of Three Zeroes offers a challenge to young people, business and political leaders and ordinary citizens everywhere to embrace a new form of capitalism and improve the world for everyone before it's too late.      Poor Economics Abhijit Banerjee, Esther Duflo, 2012-03-27 Why do the poor borrow to save? Why do they miss out on free life-saving immunizations but pay for unnecessary drugs? In Poor Economics Abhijit V Banerjee and Esther Duflo, two practical visionaries working toward ending world poverty, answer these questions from the ground. In a book the Wall Street Journal called "marvelous" and "rewarding," the authors tell how the stress of living on less than 99 cents per day encourages the poor to make questionable decisions that feed not fight poverty The result is a radical rethinking of the economics of poverty that offers a ringside view of the lives of the world's poorest and shows that creating a world without poverty begins with understanding the daily decisions facing the poor
