Disability Studies Reader 4th Edition Study Guide:

Critical Approaches to Teaching the High School Novel Crag Hill, Victor Malo-Juvera, 2018-10-25 This edited collection will turn a critical spotlight on the set of texts that has constituted the high school canon of literature for decades. By employing a set of fresh vibrant critical lenses such as youth studies and disabilities studies that are often unfamiliar to advanced students and scholars of secondary English, this book provides divergent approaches to traditional readings and pedagogical practices surrounding these familiar works. By introducing and applying these interpretive frames to the field of secondary English education, this book demonstrates that there is more to say about these texts: ways to productively problematize them and to reconfigure how they may be read and used in the classroom.

Documentary and Disability
Catalin Brylla, Helen Hughes, 2017-09-18 This edited collection of contributions from media scholars, film practitioners, and film historians connects the vibrant fields of documentary and disability studies. Documentary film has not only played an historical role in the social construction of disability but continues to be a strong force for expression, inclusion, and activism. Offering essays on the interpretation and conception of a wide variety of documentary formats, Documentary and Disability reveals a rich set of resources on subjects as diverse as Thomas Quasthoff's opera performances, Tourette syndrome in the developing world, queer approaches to sexual functionality, Channel 4 disability sports broadcasting, the political meaning of cochlear implant activation, and Christoph Schlingensiefel's celebrated Freakstars 3000.

Life and Labour Maria Giatsi Clausen, Eurig Scandrett, 2026-01-27 What makes human activity meaningful? This book explores how social, economic, and political forces have shaped the meaning of occupation throughout history. Tracing the shift from industrial capitalism's division of work and life, it analyses how movements for gender equality, labour rights, decolonization, and disability activism have contested what is considered meaningful. From the trade union fight for shorter hours to the feminist reimaging of domestic labour, the book examines the struggles over who defines occupation and for whose benefit. With case studies by activist scholars, this provocative book reveals how conflicts are central to shaping modern social relations.
