Biodiversity and Conservation Along an East African Railway Catherine Aloyce Masao, Joel Nobert, Flora John Magige, 2024-11-06 It is well known that infrastructure development projects can boost the economy and reduce the cost of trade in both developing and developed economies however infrastructure projects can also cause biodiversity loss This book is the result of an important biodiversity survey conducted along an East African railway in Tanzania The building of the railway still under construction has already led to habitat loss habitat degradation and landscape change which may have affected biodiversity The book includes recommendations to mitigate the effect of railway construction by protecting biodiversity and ecosystem services which could have major implications across Africa and other regions National and international scientists decision and policy makers as well as ecologists and conservation managers involved in large infrastructure projects will find this book invaluable The book provides baseline information and can be used as a case study for other infrastructure development projects around the world
